THE CLIENT

Warwickshire County Council

PROJECT

North Leamington School, a specialist arts college.

THE CONCEPT

The new £32m school brings together all North Leamington students onto a single campus, to create an inspiring context for 21st century learning. The design concept provides a University style Campus with separate buildings for each faculty including Mathematics and Science, Humanities and Languages, Design Technology and Engineering, Sports, and a central Hub building housing the Performing Arts, Sixth Form centre and other ancillary areas.

Each facility incorporates a wealth of environmentally friendly features culminating in the award of a BREEAM Excellent rating under the code of sustainable buildings.

SERVICES PROVIDED

PWP Building Services provided a full £6m suite of Mechanical, Electrical and Specialist services including an Energy Centre with a biomass lead boiler, intelligent natural ventilation systems, heating and domestic services, public health services, automatic lighting, power systems, an extensive BMS system, external services, a voice and data system and a new substation.

The project also comprised an extensive security system including CCTV and access systems, plus a comprehensive intelligent fire alarm system, all designed and installed in-house.

THE CLIENT'S VIEW

"PWP have again shown Miller and Warwickshire County Council their ability to deliver at all levels high quality Mechanical, Electrical and Specialist Services for the Education sector. They have shown outstanding flexibility in design, co-ordination and installation procedures – and their in-house expertise in fire, security and data systems has benefited the project from the earliest stages through to practical completion.

We look forward to working with PWP on other education projects in the near future."

Simon Butler, Regional Director, Miller Construction Limited.
